The Pressurecare Story

Trulife began making Breast Prostheses in 1987 to make life for women following breast cancer a little easier. We enjoy a well-deserved reputation as manufacturing the most natural products on the market today.

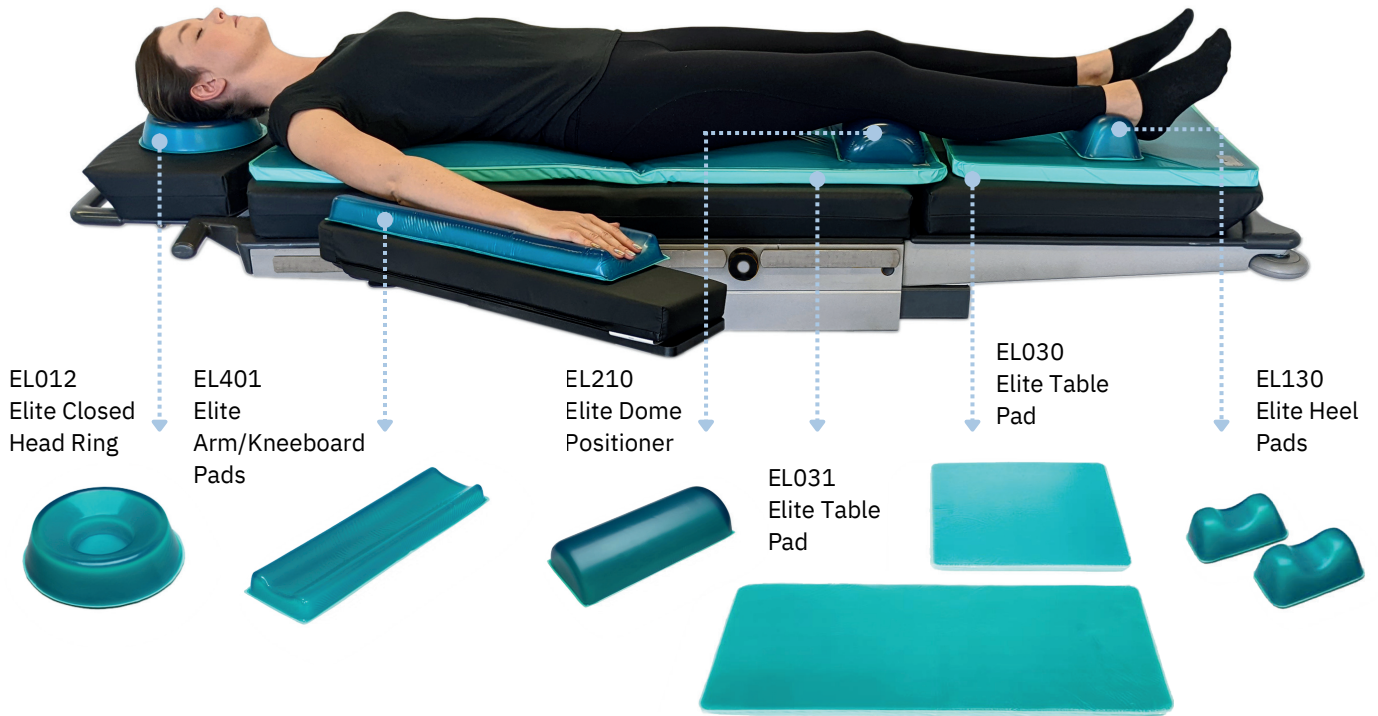

The knowledge that silicone is a well-recognised material in the medical industry, compatible with skin, durable, and excellent at relieving and re-distributing pressure, encouraged the Trulife team to pursue other uses for silicone.

In 1995 Trulife began manufacturing pressure relieving products for the operating theatre, helping prevent patients from developing pressure sores during surgery. We are now market leaders in many countries around the world.
